

WHO IS ELIGIBLE TO ENROL WITH A PHO ?

A person, who is eligible for publicly funded health services, as identified in section 32 of the New Zealand Public Health and Disability Act 2000, can choose to enrol with a PHO. Most people are eligible because they are 'ordinarily resident' in New Zealand; that is, they live in New Zealand on a permanent or long-term (more than two-year) basis. However, some may gain access to publicly funded health services through other criteria.

A person should not be invited to enrol with a PHO when they are not intending to continue to use that provider for most of their ongoing first-level primary health care services, as defined in the Establishment Service Specifications 4. However, if a person is unsure about their future circumstances in regard to their ongoing first-level services needs, they are still eligible to enrol.
